October 21, 2021

Leading enterprises recognized for successful and innovative modernization efforts for business-critical applications

SANTA CLARA, Calif., Oct. 21, 2021 /PRNewswire/ -- From ConnectONLINE 2021, Couchbase, Inc. (NASDAQ: BASE), provider of a leading modern database for enterprise applications, announced the winners of its second annual Couchbase Community Customer and Partner Awards. The awards recognize customers and partners who are accelerating modernization initiatives and enabling innovation for enterprise-critical applications.

"With global organizations outgrowing the limitations of legacy technology, the need for modern databases for business-critical applications has never been greater," said Ravi Mayuram, CTO, Couchbase. "We're constantly amazed at what our customers and partners are able to achieve with our technology. Whether it's to speed the development process, improve application performance or gain better visibility and control over growing amounts of data, our customers and partners are leading the way in how enterprises are modernizing business. On behalf of Couchbase, we congratulate this year's winners for their dedication to improving the customer experience and we look forward to seeing how they continue to innovate with Couchbase in 2022 and beyond."

Customer Award Winners

Awarded separately for customers across the Americas and EMEA, this year's awards honored Couchbase customers across travel and hospitality, financial services, healthcare, education and media and entertainment for their successful innovation.

Advanced NoSQL Architectures:

- Americas winner: Cvent
  - In moving to a microservices architecture, Cvent adopted Couchbase's modern database to provide the high performance, scalability and flexibility required for continuous delivery of its hybrid events application.
- EMEA winner: Citigroup
  - Citigroup architected a Market Data System storing billions of data points within Couchbase, scaling up to over a thousand concurrent connections within an Agile DevOps environment.

Cloud Computing:

- Americas winner: BroadJump
  - By deploying Couchbase in the cloud, BroadJump's development team was able to use their existing SQL skills to execute complex queries for analytics while improving query performance to gain better visibility and control over their expense management.
- EMEA winner: Amadeus
  - Amadeus leveraged Couchbase to design a cloud-native modular platform aimed at speeding time to market and data exchange to better serve customers and partners.

Innovating at the Edge:

- Americas winner: Northwestern University
  - Northwestern University's Catalyst Lab selected Couchbase as part of a broader tech effort to reduce chronic disease risk factors by optimizing innovative, technology-supported interventions.
- EMEA winner: Emirates
  - Emirates optimized aircraft maintenance using Couchbase, enabling it to provide real-time data capture to multiple stakeholders and architect the end-to-end digitalization of its technical logs. Emirates was also awarded the Project of the Year, demonstrating the most unique modern application built with Couchbase.

Community Architectures and Innovation:

- Winner: MOLO17

- MOLO17 leveraged Couchbase Mobile to achieve situational awareness by streamlining information flow, enhancing offline capabilities, facilitating near-real-time synchronization between the top floor, where the planning happens, and the shop floor, where the execution takes place.
